Staying in Touch

For most of us, contact with our friends forms an important part of the foundation of our social lives. We like to keep in touch with our friends and participate in many activities together. We find fellowship, friendship, and companionship with our friends, many of whom we have met at our Daughters of the Nile Temples.

An important way to keep our Temples healthy may be as easy as keeping our friendships and relationships healthy. We want our friends and members to enjoy their memberships. In order for that to happen we need to keep the lines of communication open and keep everyone informed as to the happenings of the Temple. We want everyone to feel a part of what is going on. If they feel an important part of something greater, they will be enthusiastic about keeping their memberships and will keep their memberships up to date. They wouldn’t want to miss seeing their friends at Stated Session or a Club meeting!

It is especially important to be in contact with those who may have been ill or just not able to get to Stated Session for some time. Have an active member contact those who haven’t been seen at Temple or other activities for a while with some friendly words and Temple information. If a phone call is not possible and a get well card not necessary, you could send a “Miss You” card such as the one below:

Nile love for the kids is unending.
As a Daughter of the Nile, your membership changes lives everyday.

We haven't seen you in quite awhile and we miss YOU!!! Please let us know everything is alright and if it's isn't, please let us know that too. You may contact me at ____________________________
The above “Miss You” card is available from Supreme Princess Recorder, Eleanor Green, PSQ, and there is no charge for it. Ask your Princess Recorder to order a supply for you today.

Social media presents a variety of options for ease of contact with others. Posting to your Facebook page gives an opportunity to share pictures of events and creates interest.

Staying in touch can be as easy as sending an e-mail. E-mail can be a good option for hard of hearing members who find telephone conversation difficult and it is less expensive than regular mail. Or try sending a text to someone you know who prefers it to e-mail.

The most important thing is to keep in touch in some way - whatever way works best for you and the person you want to reach! If we all do our best to stay in touch and share this important role, no one need ever feel neglected or out of touch. We and our Daughters of the Nile Temples will all benefit.
